Understanding the Honors College Experience

Jan 28th, 3 - 4pm, register online

This session will provide information on UofSC's Honors College including the students, curriculum, DegreeWorks utilization, and Honors advisement.

- Understand how Honors College requirements can be integrated into course selection and advisement for Honors students.
- Gain talking points for advising appointments for Honors students who seek strategies to maximize AP, IB, or dual enrollment credit for early graduation.
- Learn about requirements for and admission to the BARSC and BARSC-MD degree programs.
- Incorporate Appreciative Advising techniques in advising appointments with Honors students.

Honors Override and Permission Policy

Honors College Override Policy for Honors Students:

The Honors College strives to maintain small class sizes so capacity overrides into Honors sections are rare and only granted to Honors students for compelling reasons. Only the Honors College can grant overrides to Honors College classes (ie professors cannot give permission for Honors student to join a full class).

Overrides are considered on a case-by-case basis – Honors students can request consideration for an override by completing the form on our website.

*If you receive questions from an Honors student about an override into a full Honors course, please direct them to our website and to contact their Honors advisor.

Honors Override and Permission Policy

For Non-Honors students:

Overrides into open Honors sections for non-Honors students are rare and can only be granted by the Honors College. Non-Honors students requesting an override must have a high UofSC GPA (generally 3.65 or above) and typically have demonstrated mastery in the subject matter of the course requested. Non-Honors students can request consideration for Honors permission into a class by completing the form on our website, which will open a week prior to the start of classes.

*Students or advisors with questions about this process can contact Ali Mathwig, Director of Advising, but all official requests must be made through the form.
